

Bushi Kempo Ju Jitsu Association Social media policy

Social media (including personal and professional websites, blogs, chat rooms and bulletin boards; social networks, such as Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter and Instagram; video-sharing sites such as YouTube) are a common means of communication and self-expression.

It's essential that anyone associated with the Bushi Kempo Ju Jitsu Association (BKJJA) (volunteers, members, students, parents, etc.) make informed decisions about how they use the internet, mobile phone and email communications to protect our club and our people.

Everyone involved in our club has the responsibility to safeguard both in and outside the training hall, including in communications.

Please remember that when you take any action (including posts, comments and communications, etc.) you must not act in a manner that could bring the Bushi Kempo Ju Jitsu Association (BKJJA) into disrepute or place our members in danger.

Accordingly, it is everyone's responsibility to:-

1. Refrain from publishing comments about other clubs, students or instructors and any controversial or potentially inflammatory subjects.
2. Avoid hostile or harassing communications in any posts or other online communications. Harassment is any offensive conduct based on a person's race, sex, gender identity, national origin, colour, disability, age sexual orientation, veteran status, marital status, religion or any other status protected by law.
3. Clubs should identify all copyrighted or borrowed material with citations and links. When publishing direct paraphrased quotes, thoughts, ideas, photos or videos, give credit to the original publisher or author.
4. The club will be responsible for reviewing responses to online posts and resolving any concerns before they are posted.
5. If a blogger or any other online participant posts an inaccurate, accessory or negative comment about your club or anyone associated with the club, do not reply but seek advice from your BKJJA lead or Sport England.
